

Consulting

Know-how is the deciding factor

Often a decision only depends on the know-how. For those who want to understand the operation of energy systems better and better, we provide comprehensive consultation services: from the initial idea to the finished concept.

Many customers have already benefited by our advise, from individual investors to power supply companies and German insurance groups.

Our services at a glance:

- Financial consultation for existing companies
- Financial consultation for newly established companies
- Repowering concepts
- Direct selling of electricity (mediation and consultation till the contract is signed)
- Due diligence
- Business planning
- Restructuring of operating companies
